Panel I

Powering Nigeria's Energy Future: Leadership, Integration & Innovation

Positioning Nigeria as Africa's energy powerhouse in a rapidly evolving global landscape.

As global dynamics shift, Nigeria must harness its upstream strength, unlock gas potential, and drive integration across the energy value chain. This session explores how visionary leadership, policy reform, and innovation can propel Nigeria toward sustainable growth and energy security.

Key discussion points

- Balancing production growth with environmental sustainability.
- Leveraging gas for domestic development and export growth.
- Integrating upstream, midstream, and downstream value chains.
- Digitalisation and technology as enablers of efficiency and competitiveness.
- Policy, fiscal, and regulatory reforms restoring investor confidence.
- Private sector leadership and collaboration in the energy transition.

Panel II

The Future of Energy Capital: Financing Transition and Growth

Financing Nigeria's multi-billion-dollar energy future. Mobilising capital for Nigeria's next decade of energy growth.

This session focuses on how capital markets, financiers, and investors can drive the next decade of growth — from hydrocarbons to renewables — through innovative funding models, ESG alignment, and regional collaboration.

Key discussion points

- Innovative financing structures for gas, renewables, and infrastructure.
- Role of local and regional financial institutions.
- ESG metrics and sustainable investment frameworks.
- Building long-term investor confidence through transparency and policy stability.
- Mobilising private and sovereign capital for inclusive energy growth.

Participants: CEOs, CFOs, and heads of investment from leading financial institutions, IOCs, and sovereign funds.
